The importance of keeping firm and product names in the public eye is recognized by all business men. It is astonishing to see how a firm or product, however meritorious, will slip into the limbo of the forgotten if not persistently advertised.

The City Directory is the natural medium for keeping a business or product name in the spotlight. Insist on being well represented in its pages.

Hill Directory Company, Publishers

INTRODUCTION AND GENERAL INDEX

HILL DIRECTORY COMPANY, publishers of Southeastern Directories, present to subscribers and the general public, this, the latest edition of the Wadesboro Directory. (In all, the HILL DIRECTORY COMPANY and its affiliated companies publish more than 1,400 City, County, State and National Directories).

Confidence in the growth of Wadesboro's industry, population and wealth, and in the advancement of its civic and social activities, will be maintained as sections of this Directory are consulted, for the Directory is a mirror truly reflecting Wadesboro to the world.

The enviable position occupied by HILL'S Directories in the estimation of the public, has been established by rendering the best in Directory service. With an unrivaled organization, and having had the courteous and hearty cooperation of the business and professional men and residents, the publishers feel that the result of their labors will meet with the approval of every user, and that the Wadesboro Directory will fulfill its mission as a source of authentic information pertaining to the community.

Five Major Departments

The five major departments are arranged in the following order:—

I. THE BUYERS' GUIDE constitutes the first major department of the Directory, printed on yellow paper. In the first section of this department, grouped under appropriate headings, are included the advertisements and business cards of firms and individuals desiring to make a complete presentation of their products or services. Following this is the Classified Business Section, which embraces a list of the names and addresses of all business and professional concerns of the community, arranged in alphabetical order under appropriate headings—a catalog of all the activities of the community. The Buyers' Guide represents reference advertising at its best, and merits the attention of all buyers and sellers seeking sources of supply or markets for goods. In a busy and diversified community like Wadesboro, the necessity of having this kind of information up-to-date and always immediately available, is obvious. The Directory is the common intermediary between buyer and seller, and plays an important role in the daily activities of the commercial, industrial and professional world.

II. THE ALPHABETICAL LIST OF NAMES of residents, business and professional concerns is the second major department, printed on white paper. This is the only record in existence that aims to show the name, marital status, occupation and address of each adult resident of Wadesboro, and the name, official personnel, nature and address of each firm and corporation in the community.

III. THE DIRECTORY OF HOUSEHOLDERS, INCLUDING STREET AND AVENUE GUIDE is the third major department, printed on green paper. In this section the numbered streets are arranged in numerical order, followed by the named streets in alphabetical order; the numbers of the residences and business concerns are arranged in numerical order under the name of each street, and the names of the householders and concerns are placed opposite the numbers. The names of the intersecting streets appear at their respective crossing points on each street. Special features of this section are the designation of owner-occupied homes, the listing of telephone numbers, and Zip Codes.

IV. THE NUMERICAL TELEPHONE DIRECTORY is the fourth major department, printed on blue paper.

V. THE RURAL ROUTES DIRECTORY is the fifth major department, printed on white paper.

Municipal Publicity

The Directory reflects the achievements and ambitions of the city, depicting in unbiased terms what it has to offer as a place of residence, as a business location, as a manufacturing site and as an educational center. To broadcast this information, the publishers have placed copies of this issue of the Directory in Directory Libraries, where they are readily available for free public reference, and serve as perpetual and reliable advertisements of Wadesboro.

The Wadesboro Out-of-Town City Directory Library

Through the courtesy of the publishers of the Wadesboro Directory, a Directory Library is maintained in the offices of the Wadesboro-Anson Chamber Of Commerce, for free reference by the general public. This is one of more than 800 Directory Libraries installed in cities and towns throughout the United States, Canada and Puerto Rico through the courtesy of your Publisher.

The publishers appreciatively acknowledge the recognition by those progressive business and professional men who have demonstrated their confidence in the City Directory as an advertising medium, with assurance that it will bring a commensurate return.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT ANSON COUNTY!

Anson is an old plantation county, beginning now to be tinged with modern industry. In its efforts to balance its agricultural economy, it has the benefit of varied experience, for in its 217 years it has seen and been many things.

It is partly Piedmont and partly coastal plains; part sand, part clay; part farm and part forest. When it was created, the county sprawled all the way to the Mississippi; now it contains a modest 533 square miles of area, and a population of 24,962.

- Like Deep South -

It shares some of the statistics of other counties lying against the South Carolina line, but Anson has a distinct character, and is like no other place in North Carolina. A few years ago, it was said there was not a single resident in the county who was not either of Anglo-Saxon stock or Negro blood. They are practically all descended from early arrivals who put down roots here to stay and prosper, and this has been the ambition of most Ansonians since.

- Patriotic People -

The people of Anson thus have been around home a long time, and there is a strong tradition of aristocracy. The county produced a crop of energetic and effective Whigs in the Revolution, and it was militantly for the Confederacy. What other town the size of Wadesboro could support two D.A.R. Chapters?

Modern Anson is still largely rural (only 12.7 per cent urban) and largely agricultural. The numerous towns are well distributed, but aside from Wadesboro, none have as many as 1,000 population. Some of the settlements are old and were the centers for prosperous farm sections. Cotton still dominates agriculture, though not as completely as it once did; lumbering is almost as important now as it was a hundred years ago.

- History -

English, Scots, Germans and a few French were in Anson at the time of its creation in 1749 as our 15th County. Altogether, they numbered about 5,000, but they were scattered over a vast territory from the Pee Dee to the Mississippi; from the Granville line to South Carolina. A few Catawba, Cheraw and Pee Dee Indians were still around but rapidly dwindling.

The county was named for Lord George Anson, first Lord of the British Admiralty, who had made a voyage around the world and written a popular book about his adventures. His connection with Anson was slight; he had been sent to the Carolinas in the 1730's to patrol against Spanish pirates and lived at Charleston.

- Early Dissent -

Anson was among the first counties to resist Tryon's colonial government. In 1768, a mob invaded the courthouse (then at Mt. Pleasant), and threatened to tear down the log courthouse and jail. Samuel Spencer, deputy clerk of court, tried to reason with them, but the group obstructed the court and passed resolutions to resist tax collections.

In reply to Colonel Spencer's report, Tryon authorized him to muster the militia to suppress further trouble. This same Spencer, by the way, later was himself a rebel, and was elected to the first Provincial Congress at New Bern and to subsequent congresses. He also was colonel of the Whig militia, served as one of the first superior court judges under the free state, and met a curious death, as related in another story.

Anson was hardly in business before the process of partition of its preposterous bulk began. Rowan was taken away in 1753; a slice of territory was made into Mecklenburg in 1762; Montgomery in 1778; Richmond in 1779. Anson's present boundaries were stabilized in 1843 when it lost some territory to Union.

- Battleground -

During the Revolution, life was exceedingly insecure in Anson. Tories and Whigs raided and counter-raided, burned homes, destroyed crops, and summarily "executed" prisoners in a reciprocal chain of bloody reprisals. Colonel Thomas Wade often was the leader of the Patriots. One of his comrades was his brother-in-law, Patrick Boggan, a hard-riding and widely feared Irishman of noble blood. Another was Spencer, while royalist bureaucrat.

- Border Dispute -

Even before this, Anson was the victim of gnawing disorders. The state boundary was in dispute for a century, and lawless settlers living along the shadowy line took advantage of the confusion to resist civil authority and to take up land. Land titles were doubtful, law enforcement uncertain.

The courthouse was moved in 1783 to New Town, Newton or Gloucester, later to become Wadesboro, when the Revolutionary hero died in 1786.

Other towns were founded and fed off the wealth of the planters. Most of them declined with the coming of good roads and concentrated markets. One, Sneedsborough, completely disappeared after an ambitious and romantic start as a river port.

These towns attracted craftsmen and small industries. Metal workers, carriage and wagon shops, furniture and coffinmakers, silver-smiths were among them.

- Agriculture -

Farming at first was typically colonial—corn, wheat, potatoes and other vegetables. Indigo, flax and hemp were of minor importance. When the cotton gin was developed, Anson adopted this crop as its own, and an expansive plantation system developed. Large areas were cleared and put into cotton, and as the fields wore out they were abandoned in favor of new ground. These abandoned lands were taken over by forests and the system was responsible for the spread of fine "old field pines" which characterized the county later.

These plantations were self-supporting, producing not only the food needed on the farm, but also clothing, shoes and even implements. Each large farm had its own blacksmith shop, its horse-operated cotton gin and screw compressor. Large plantations brought slavery; by 1860, 51 per cent of the population were slaves.

- Civil War -

When the Civil War came, Anson was fixed in a pattern more like that of the Deep South cotton country than of Piedmont, North Carolina. Only a few industries had been developed, but large plantations had brought prosperity to some families who lived in comfort and even luxury. In 1860, there were 6,832 slaves, 101 free colored and 6,556 white residents.

Anson was enthusiastic about the Confederacy. It hoisted its own secession flag prematurely and sent 1,182 men to the army. And it suffered correspondingly by defeat. Sherman's bummers burned and pillaged. Over half the tangible property of the citizens was wiped out by emancipation, and reconstruction was a time of depression and despair.

- Railway Arrives -

Anson paid little attention to anything except agriculture for the first century and a quarter of its existence. A prerequisite of industry—transportation—got a start in 1861 when tracks were laid for the old Carolina Central, but it was 1874 before trains reached Wadesboro. Since then Anson has obtained service from the Seaboard, Atlantic Coastline and the Winston-Salem Southbound. Twenty-one major truck lines operate in the county.

Then in the 80's, the presence of so much cotton suggested the obvious—a cotton mill. In 1890, the Wadesboro Cotton Mill—the first locally owned industrial plant in Wadesboro—was opened. In the same year the first silk mill to be built in the South was located at Wadesboro by George and Robert Singleton of Dover, Delaware. It operated into the first quarter of 1900. A full decade passed before another industry was realized, this one also derived from its great crop. The Wadesboro Cotton Oil Company was established.

- Industrial Awakening -

But little else stirred the county. A contemporary writer said Wadesboro's streets were "ankle deep in sand," civic equipment was inadequate or lacking. Arrival of the Winston-Salem Southbound railway gave the county three railroads—an enviable asset—and in 1911 came the plant of Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company, and ten years later Anson began to awaken.

Small businesses sprang up, mass meetings were held, a Chamber Of Commerce organized. A water system was installed in the county seat, and in swift order came a new post office, high school, courthouse, and theatre.

Another textile plant was organized—the Wade Mill, employing 325—a large plant for that day. Two lumber mills followed, and the community put up a fund for investment in any industry planning to locate.

- Power Development -

The largest single development ever to come to Anson County, and one leading to other industrial expansion of the section, was building of the power dam at Blewetts Falls. Here, in a narrow gorge, William Bluitt (Blewett) had a profitable ferry and fishery. And here Hugh MacRae of Wilmington saw an opportunity to produce modern power for the mills still clinging to waterpower. He also needed it for his railway system in Wilmington and to light the growing towns and cities.

The Great Pee Dee Electric Company was chartered in 1905. With several associates and some northern capital, MacRae began a venture which was to take several years, and was to lead to both legal and physical combat. There were pitched battles, destructive floods, bankruptcy, hardship and even deaths before the project went into operation June 1, 1912.

The dam and powerhouse is now part of the Carolina Power & Light system. Building of the dam activated the nearby "ballast pits" and gave Anson's minerals industry a shove forward.

It is one of the prettiest of North Carolina's artificial lakes, and people in Anson and Richmond County quickly began using it as their own favorite fishing hole.

- Recreation -

In recent years with the growth of boating, Blewett's has become even more popular. Access areas and launching sites have been opened up, lakeside cottages erected, and throughout the summer, the water is widely used by fishermen, boatmen and skiers. The best place to approach it is to turn off U. S. 74 just west of the bridge leading from Richmond County.

Just above Anson, on the Pee Dee in Stanly, is Lake Tillery, another Carolina Power & Light power installation, and on its shores is popular Morrow Mountain State Park. Anson folks use these facilities, too. For recreation, they also go over to the Sandhills resorts, and Charlotte's attractions are counted as their own, with good roads making the trip a brief ride.

- Modern Industry -

The county's industry today is divided among textiles, lumber and wood-using plants, grain mills, fertilizer and large sand and gravel operations of the Hedrick and Bonsal companies, with their affiliates.

Recent figures show that 23.8 per cent of Anson's employed persons are in manufacturing; 36.5 per cent in agriculture. The figures indicate an unusual number in retail and wholesale trade, services and professions.

In 1837, Anson's planters were served by the Merchants' Bank of Cheraw, S. C. The Bank of Wadesboro was incorporated in 1850, but did not survive. The First National of Anson established in 1894 operates in Wadesboro with branches in several towns. A new bank of Wadesboro, founded in 1902, became the present Anson Bank & Trust Company, with several branches.

- Churches -

In 1753, Presbyterians were negotiating with John Lynn for land to erect a meeting house between the Yadkin and Catawba. This was the beginning of Rowan's historic Thyatira Presbyterian Church, at that time in Anson. Baptists organized congregations on Rocky River in 1776 and at Lilesville in 1777. Methodism started when Bishop Asbury visited the county in 1801 with Bishop Whatcoat and preached under the arches of the courthouse. The Episcopal Church was established in Wadesboro in 1820. Catholics have a beautiful little church at Wadesboro built about 15 years ago.

- Schools -

Earliest records mention a schoolmaster on Schoolhouse Branch. Anson had a private academy as early as 1791 known as Stokes. Academies also were established at Sneedsborough in 1800 and at Wadesboro in 1802.

The "old field" public school and institutes came in 1838. Then in 1851 planters opened Carolina Female College at Ansonville, which ran until after the Civil War and attracted wide patronage. An industrial school for Negroes operated at Pee Dee.

Consolidation has revolutionized education in Anson, as elsewhere. The fall of 1960 saw five county white high schools consolidated into one beautiful plant west of Wadesboro at a cost of nearly $1 million. Wadesboro's city system has expanded its high school plant with a modern wing. Morven has its own separate school system.

SUMMARY

Anson is a hybrid Piedmont-Sandhills County, with a cotton-plantation background which still flavors its culture, and the county has been a producer of historic events and characters. It is distinctively Southern, rural, hospitable and leisurely. Agriculture is the main pursuit, but lumbering and mining are of importance, and both industrial and commercial life have been gradually expanding in the last 50 years.

Most of the people (almost half of them colored) live on farms and in small villages, and the largest town has less than 4,000 population.

As farming had declined, an increasing number commute to jobs in nearby counties. In its bid for new enterprises, Anson presents a coastal plains climate, massive hydroelectric power and transportation, a strategic location, a large labor force and conservative citizenry.

Common Sense About City Directory Circulation

THE TRUE VALUE of advertising circulation is circulation consulted.

TO BE EXACT by actual survey in twenty-four average American cities by actual count each City Directory averaged three and one-half consultations for each business day.

TO BE CONSERVATIVE we will eliminate the sixty Sundays and Holidays when no tests were made.

FOR EVERY THOUSAND DIRECTORIES sold there will be an average of three and one-half consultations for each book for THREE HUNDRED and FIVE days, therefore $1000 \times 3\frac{1}{2} \times 305 = 1,067,500$.

Do Not Lend Your CITY DIRECTORY

IT COSTS YOU MONEY—Every Time it Is Loaned

The practice of lending your City Directory, in a great measure, is responsible for the increasing cost of Directory Service.

The reason is:—

There is a definite cost involved in the making of the DIRECTORY of Your City.

THIS COST MUST BE ABSORBED BY THE SUBSCRIBERS—BE THEY ONE—OR BE THEY 1000.

If there were but ONE SUBSCRIBER to the CITY DIRECTORY—THE ONE SUBSCRIBER would of necessity have to absorb THE WHOLE COST.

If there were 100 SUBSCRIBERS—each one would have to absorb 1/100 PART OF THE WHOLE COST.

If there were 1000 SUBSCRIBERS—each one would have to absorb 1/1000 PART OF THE WHOLE COST.

From which it is obvious that the GREATER the number of subscribers—the LESSER the cost to each.

And

It is also obvious that the LESSER the number of subscribers—the GREATER the cost to each.

Every time you loan your City Directory the LESS NECESSITY THERE IS FOR THE BORROWER TO SUBSCRIBE FOR THE SERVICE.

MORE BORROWERS result in FEWER SUBSCRIBERS which means INCREASED COST.

STREET and AVENUE GUIDE

INCLUDING

TELEPHONE NUMBERS, HOME OWNER SYMBOLS

and ZIP CODES

In the following list the numbered streets are arranged in numerical order followed by the named streets in alphabetical order, the intersecting streets being shown. The number of each building on the street is given in numerical order, and opposite the number is placed the name of the occupants or houseowner or tenant. In the business blocks containing offices the occupants are shown by room numbers where practicable, in apartment homes the number denotes the number of the apartment. In all streets both sides of the street are included in one list. The profession or business of individuals or firms is given only at their respective place of business; to find occupation of others refer to Alphabetical List of Names.

The symbol © following a householder's name indicates that we have received information during the canvass that the house is owned by some member of the family, but as the publisher cannot and does not guarantee the correctness of the information furnished, nor the complete absence of mistakes, no responsibility for errors can be or is assumed, nor can the publisher furnish further information than that shown.

Telephone numbers, as supplied to us on our canvass are shown opposite names.

Zip Code numbers are shown immediately following each street description. If a street runs through more than one zone, the new Zip Code number is shown immediately preceding the lowest street number in the new zone.

The numerals that appear at right edge of columns, ahead of street descriptions and some street intersections, are merely for the guidance of the publishers, and have no other significance.

This section includes some listings reading "No Return." In each case the Publishers tried diligently, by various means, to obtain the information for the occupants but were unsuccessful. First, two personal calls were made by an enumerator; next, a double postal card was mailed and the telephone used when possible.

A MAGAZINE OF YOUR OWN

- keeps you in touch with customers and prospects
- wins high readership
- builds good will
- generates sales

If you market your product or service nationally, why not investigate the many advantages of a consumer magazine to provide a continuing contact with your prospects and customers? There's no better medium for building sales volume, retaining customer good will and converting prospects to customers.

Polk's Marketing Services Division can recommend the best type of magazine for you and handle all phases of its publication—the creative, editing, printing, dealer imprinting, list compilation, addressing and mailing operations.

Let us show you what magazines have accomplished for other clients and what your own magazine can do for you.

A STATEMENT OF ADVERTISING PRINCIPLES

1. Good Advertising ~ aims to inform the consumer and help him to buy more intelligently.
2. Good Advertising ~ tells the truth, avoiding misstatement of facts as well as possible deception through implication or omission. It makes no claims which cannot be met in full and without further qualification. It uses only testimonials of competent witnesses.
3. Good Advertising ~ conforms to the generally accepted standards of good taste. It seeks public acceptance on the basis of the merits of the product or service advertised rather than by the disparagement of competing goods. It tries to avoid practices that are offensive or annoying.
4. Good Advertising ~ recognizes both its economic responsibility to help reduce distribution costs and its social responsibility in serving the public interest.
